Comments

1. Solid attempt in achieving the sprint goals and went beyond by achieving small to medium stretches.
2. Great communication within the team and everyone contributed in achieving the sprint goals.
3. Good testing and usage of design patterns on both client and server side.
4. The team is very organized and has great potential. Just make sure when you are taking up a feature, all the use cases within the feature are met.
5. One advice that you can take from here is prioritizing on goals and also make sure you submit a document of the sprint goal before the week of sprint review.
